Ellen Freeman is partner-in-charge of Porter Wright's new Pittsburgh location. Inspired by her diverse clientele and the dynamic Pittsburgh community, she is proud to serve uniquely as a foreign-born female law office lead in Pennsylvania. Ellen brings 18 years of practice in employment-based immigration to advise growing organizations on U.S. global and immigration law, strategy, compliance and training. She extends her leadership as board member for University of Pittsburgh's Center for International Legal Education, Executive Women Council of Greater Pittsburgh, Law360's Immigration Section and the American Immigration Lawyers Association. Ellen also served as a member of the Welcoming Pittsburgh Advisory Council to the Mayor of Pittsburgh.
