

Martin J. Miller

partner

Marty has extensive experience in all facets of intellectual property law, particularly with respect to helping clients protect and defend their intellectual property and resolving intellectual property disputes, including by way of litigation.

He has represented clients ranging from multinational corporations to universities and individuals on a wide variety of intellectual property matters.

He has practiced in federal courts around the country, including the U.S. Supreme Court, as well as before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board and the Patent Trial and Appeal Board at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.

Marty has considerable experience in patent and trademark prosecution (U.S. and foreign), trademark clearance, patent opinions (particularly, freedom-to-practice and validity), proceedings before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board, IP due diligence, drafting and negotiating commercial agreements, licensing of all forms of intellectual property (including software licensing and trademarks) and competitive intelligence. His practice spans a wide range of technological areas including medical devices, chemistry and pharmaceuticals. Prior to joining Porter Wright, Marty was chief operating officer and in-house counsel for a technology company. His past experience includes working as a process engineer at a large oil refinery.
