

Kyle C. Gilliam-Hopkins

associate

Kyle is an associate in the firm's Litigation Department where he concentrates his practice in commercial litigation and environmental law.

Kyle's litigation experience spans a diverse range of practice areas in state and federal court and includes representing clients in high-value contract disputes, consumer product insurance claims and negligence actions involving catastrophic injury. He also advises a major public utility on eminent domain matters, including successfully defending the utility on appeal in state court. On the environmental side, Kyle assists clients with environmental litigation, due diligence and CERCLA matters.

Kyle also co-chairs the firm's Equality Alliance and leads the firm's pro bono team that provides support to individuals seeking to change their name or gender-identifying marker.

While in law school, Kyle completed legal externships with the Ohio Environmental Council and the Legal Aid Society of Columbus and served as an editor of the Ohio State Business Law Journal.
