

PORTER WRIGHT MORRIS & ARTHUR LLP

► TAX, ESTATE PLANNING, PERSONAL WEALTH LAW

BARBARA SIMANEK, OF COUNSEL

Barbara Simanek joined Porter Wright as of counsel from K&L Gates, bringing more than 30 years of experience in tax, estate planning and personal wealth law. She advises individuals and families on all aspects of estate planning and estate administration, helping clients preserve wealth, address tax considerations and achieve long-term family and business goals. Her practice includes tax planning, business succession planning, elder law and the administration of significant estates, with particular experience integrating retirement plan assets and employee benefits into comprehensive estate plans.

“The most meaningful part of my practice is building relationships with clients and helping them navigate some of life’s most personal decisions. Whether the focus is preserving assets, planning for future generations or addressing complex family considerations, I enjoy developing solutions that reflect each client’s unique circumstances.”

Licensed in Pennsylvania, Florida and the District of Columbia, Barbara advises clients across multiple states and supports individuals, families and fiduciaries with complex estate planning and administration matters. Her multistate practice enables her to serve clients throughout key markets where Porter Wright maintains a presence.
