

Samantha M. Jacobsen

associate

Samantha is an associate with experience in trial advocacy, legal research, and motion practice. Before joining the firm, she served as an Assistant State Attorney for Florida's Thirteenth Judicial Circuit, where she managed a substantial caseload from arraignment through trial. She drafted and argued motions, tried cases, and gained significant courtroom experience addressing complex legal and procedural issues.

While in law school, Samantha interned for the Honorable Paul Huey, where she conducted legal research on construction and personal injury matters and prepared memoranda for the court. Samantha also co-founded the Space Law Society and served as its vice-president. Additionally, she served on the Ethics Committee of Louisiana State University Law Center.
